

New to Frusion in 2006
Transglobal Underground

With a cannon of fantastic concerts and superb albums behind them this awe inspiring live show experience is something to behold. Want a bit of history then lets just take a look at the bands history in their own words

"Trans-Global Underground had to happen. They refused to accept that dance music had to be four to the floor house. They refused to accept that something called 'World Music' ever existed. They slowed down hip hop and sped up dub. They sang in whatever language they felt like singing in. they were DJs but they played live. It all seems so obvious now. Their influence is all over the place, sometimes benign, sometimes joyful, sometimes beautiful and sometimes bloody dreadful!"
Two more of the cast of 'Rejoice Rejoice' came onboard fulltime...Punjabi percussionist Gurjit Sihra and Zulu vocalist Doreen Thobekile, who had worked with Hamid before on the Xangbetos project for Nation. With a new burst of energy, TGU started travelling further outwards, touring in India, Tunisia, Turkey, South Africa and playing regularly around Eastern Europe.
A lot of time was also spent in Egypt working with various Egyptian artists including Hakim, Riko, Mika Sabet and of course Natacha Atlas."

And so we're here in 2006 , time to book a great great band. Just ring or email Ian at Frusion.. and the rest?.. you'll just have a great great time

"What better recommendation can I provide for Impossible Broadcasting than this? This music has power - it gets inside of you". CD review Peter Dolan
